

DCI partners once again find themselves on the top row of prestigious Travel Industry Awards

The internationally acclaimed travel magazine Travel & Leisure (Southeast Asia Edition, March 2010 issue), published their much awaited T + L Jury List, voting Adrian Zecha of Amanresorts, the design champion of this year's top winners and a visionary "for the style, drama, and romance he has brought to the luxury travel experience. Since launching Amanresorts some 20 years ago, he has created not just a hotel brand but a philosophy, a worldview" T+L praises. Amanresorts is DCI's partner at the Porto Heli Collection and Kea Resort in Greece and at Playa Grande in the Dominican Republic.

In the top row join Adrian Zecha, the fashion designer Isaac Mizrahi, Jean-Michel Gathy, principal designer of Denniston International Architects & Planners (yet another acclaimed DCI partner for the Porto Heli Collection and Playa Grande), and Michael Smith who recently completed work on the White House's residential quarters for the Obama Family.

